Your Duty Of Disclosure

You have a legal duty of disclosure to Us whenever You apply for, or change an insurance policy.

What You Must Tell Us

You have a general duty to tell Us everything that You know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that is relevant to Our decision whether to insure You, and if We do on what terms. Your general duty applies until the time You enter into the insurance policy.

However, Your duty does not require You to disclose anything:

- that reduces the risk to be undertaken by Us;
- that is generally well known;
- that We know or, in the ordinary course of Our business, ought to know; or
- in respect of which We have waived Your duty.

If You Do Not Tell Us

If You do not answer Our questions honestly or do not properly disclose to Us, We may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or may cancel Your policy. If You act fraudulently in answering Our questions or not disclosing to Us,

We may refuse to pay a claim or treat Your policy as never having existed.

Your General Duty Applies To Changes

Your general duty applies in full when You change or reinstate Your insurance policy.

Your General Duty Is Limited For New Policies

When You apply for a new policy Your duty of disclosure applies, but You do not need to tell Us something unless We specifically ask You about it.

However You must be honest in answering any questions We ask You.

You have a legal duty to tell Us anything You know, and which a reasonable person in Your circumstances would include in answering the questions.

We will use the answers in deciding whether to insure You and anyone else to be insured under the same policy, and on what terms.

Who Needs To Tell Us

It is important that You understand You are disclosing to Us and answering Our questions for Yourself and anyone else You want to be covered by the policy.

Code Of Practice

We have adopted the General Insurance Code of Practice developed by the Insurance Council of Australia. The Code is designed to promote good relations and good insurance practice between insurers, authorised representatives and consumers.

The Code sets out what We must do when dealing with You. Please contact Us if You want more information about the Code.

The Amount You Pay For This Insurance

The amount We charge You for this insurance policy is the total amount of the premium that We calculate to cover the risk and any relevant government charges (such as GST and stamp duty).

These amounts add up to the total amount You must pay.

Once the policy is issued Your total premium and any relevant government charges are shown on the Certificate of Insurance. If You change Your policy in any way You may be entitled to a partial premium refund or be required to pay an additional amount.

How Various Factors Affect The Amount Payable

We consider a number of factors in calculating the total Amount Payable. The key factors that affect the amount You pay include the area to which You are travelling, Your age and the duration of Your Journey.

The following is a guide on how these factors combine together on this plan and may impact on the assessment of risk, and therefore Your premium.

- Area – higher risk areas cost more.
- Duration – the longer Your trip the more it usually costs.

How A Claim Payment Is Calculated

When We pay a claim We consider a number of aspects in calculating the amount. These can include:

- the amount of loss, damage or liability;
- maximum benefit limits and sub-limits;
- reasonable depreciation; and
- the terms and conditions of the policy.

The following example illustrates how We will calculate the amount payable for a claim:

- Your new video camera with an original purchase price of $4,000 is stolen from a hotel room.
- Your excess is $100.

The amount payable following the claim would be calculated as follows:

- consider the value of the video camera – $4,000 (no depreciation applies because the video camera was new).
- consider the maximum benefit limit for Luggage and Personal

Effects Documents – $7,500.

- consider the maximum item limit payable for cameras and video equipment – $3,500. This item limit applies in this case.
- You have $100 excess, so $100 is deducted. This results in an amount payable of $3,400.
